

In Loving Memory of
CLARENCE BAILEY

MARCH 10, 1936 - OCTOBER 26, 2021

LIFE'S JOURNEY

Clarence Stanley Bailey was born on March 10, 1936 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. He was the youngest child born to the late Virginia Drury and Jessie Bailey who preceded him in death.

On October 26, 2021, the world lost an extraordinary man, a witness and servant of Jehovah.

The public school system of Philadelphia is where Clarence excelled in several subjects, primarily, mathematics.

Clarence accepted the Truth of God's Word in 1956 at the young age of twenty.

In his spare time, Clarence would create various works of art and compose incredible illustrations, for he possessed the gift of artistic ability.

Clarence worked for The Stand Metal Company of Philadelphia in the 60s making office furniture for corporate buildings, hospitals, and schools.

Dissatisfied with his employment and salary, Clarence quickly sought after and adopted a trade. He studied the mechanics of carpentry and started a business of his own. He began reconstructing and renovating the interior spaces of private residences and commercial buildings. Clarence reckoned that his time was best spent contributing to the construction of Kingdom Halls.

Clarence also enjoyed spending time spreading Jehovah's Word as a Minister of the Good News. He loved giving talks at the Kingdom Hall, studying the Bible, as well as pioneering and guiding his younger brothers and sisters to become strong Witnesses of Jehovah.

Anyone who ever met "Brother Clarence" quickly became accustomed to the idea that as long as you were in his presence, he would set aside time to discuss Jehovah's word.

Clarence married Anna Bailey in the summer of 1981 and they remained happily united in marriage until Anna's death in 2016.

Clarence is preceded in death by his mother Virginia Drury-Thomas and father, Jessie Bailey, his wife Anna Bailey, brothers Jessie Jr., Alphonso, Jerry Ricks and Gregory Thomas, his son, David Bailey. He leaves to cherish his memory: brother Larry Thomas, sister Patricia Brown, son Eric Bailey, daughters Ivy, Diana, Lisa, Patricia, and LaShawn Bailey, daughter-in-law Shantell Bailey; a myriad of grandchildren, great-grandchildren, nieces, nephews, and special friends John Devlin, Harold Pullins, Brother Diggs, Brother Longmire, and Brother Derrick Walker.
